

ROOTS, BRANCHES & LHEAf:

Multidisciplinary perspectives on East Africa's Early History

6-8 June 2024

This conference is about the early history of East African people, their languages and cultures, concluding the Leiden project on the Linguistic History of East Africa. Aiming to correlate our linguistic findings with those of other disciplines. The conference is interdisciplinary and invites researchers from fields such as archaeology, anthropology, history and genetics in addition to linguistics.

We invite presentations of 20 minutes with 20 minutes discussions (all plenary). The conference is in-person, but online attendance will be facilitated if necessary. Contact us if you have any financial concerns.

Please submit your abstract of ~500 words via e-mail (lheaf@hum.leidenuniv.nl) until January 15th 2024.

www.lheaf.org

Universiteit
Leiden
Centre for Linguistics

